

THE NEXT 6 MONTHS

The deVeber Institute team is proud of all we have achieved so far this year, but especially excited for what lies ahead.

Still to come in 2024:

LECTURE

A fall collaborative lecture series on MAiD oversights and safeguards

IN-PERSON

A palliative care focused in-person presentation — the first since 2020

RESEARCH

A large-scale initiative to fundraise for crucial research updates on women's health

The deVeber Institute's achievements are made possible by donors, like you

Thank you!

Please donate to support the work of the deVeber Institute. We are a small organization, striving to provide top research, lectures, and publications on today's life issues. To meet these goals we rely on the support of donors - like you.

All donations are tax-deductible and immediately put to work. Donating is as easy as simply choosing one of the below options.

1. Fill in and return the enclosed donation slip
2. Securely donate online at CanadaHelps
3. E-transfer to bioethics@deveber.org

You make it possible for our small organization to impact change. Thank you for all you do to further research and discourse on today's human life issues.

"I appreciate the unique work of the deVeber Institute, and its role in shining a light in places that other scientists and writers avoid."

WELCOMING DR. THOMAS BOUCHARD

The deVeber Institute is honored to welcome Dr. Thomas Bouchard to our advisory board. Dr. Bouchard is a family medicine and geriatric care doctor in Calgary. He is a Clinical Assistant Professor at the University of Calgary and has a special interest in fertility, menstrual health literacy and perinatal palliative care.

Dr. Bouchard has presented at the last two deVeber Institute lecture series on MAiD and palliative care. His phenomenal presentations can be viewed on our website under Videos.

ECHOES: PALLIATIVE CARE STORIES OF CANADA

Echoes is a project near and dear to our hearts that we have been working on for the past couple of years. It is a unique collection of uplifting stories from coast-to-coast highlighting the importance of palliative care.

Each narrative is accompanied by regional statistics on palliative care and a directory of local resources.

These stories are featured on a new website that will launch this summer! Be sure to check your emails in the coming months for the official release.

Do you have a story about the impact of palliative care resources, doctors or services? We'd love to hear it!

The Institute Presents

Is the Human Embryo a Person?

Those focused on protecting both the well-being of women and the lives of the unborn act on a belief that the child in the womb is a human person. Advocates for abortion may challenge this position. To deal fairly and convincingly with these challenges, author John Gallgher CSB, presents a thorough reconsideration of the issue.

Is the Human Embryo a Person? examines the notion of what it means to be a human person and the validity of these notions.

Available for purchase Fall 2024.
